April 25th - A Concert Tribute to Clyde McCoy and His "Sugar Blues" Orchestra at the Vern Riffe Center for the Arts at 8:00 p.m. Join us on a 'sentimental journey' through the 1940s as Joseph Rubin directs a 15-piece Big Band Orchestra. Transport back to the heyday of an era with tunes from Glenn Miller, Ted Lewis, Benny Goodman, and our own hometown's famous bandleader, Clyde McCoy. His unique, muted "wah-wah" style has been widely copied by many, but never equaled. In 1930, McCoy introduced his theme song, Sugar Blues, which sold over a million copies. Through his success, McCoy has never forgotten his Portsmouth roots and has returned to perform no less than six times between 1933 and 1942. Don't miss out on this exciting "living history" concert celebrating the centennial of Clyde McCoy's first band. Tickets are available through the McKinley Box Office, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.
